

Gli autori

Santiago Álvarez García has achieved an MPhil in political philosophy from the University of Sevilla with a thesis on inequality in the theory of justice of David Hume. Currently, he is preparing a doctoral thesis on Hume's theory of justice. He has published La criminalización de la desigualdad en la teoría de la justicia de David Hume, in «Universitas», XI, 18, January-June 2013; El valor de la democracia en Demóstenes, in «Res Publica», Suplemento 2009; Reinventando la India. Sobre “La India contemporánea” de Amartya Sen, in «Araucaria», 20, 2008.

Antonio Cardigliano has achieved his BA in Political Science and International Relations and his MA in Science of Politics at the University of Salento.

Michele Carducci is Full Professor of Comparative Constitutional Law in the University of Salento – Italy. Before Salento, he taught in the Universities of Parma and Urbino. Once taken the Doctorate in Constitutional Law, he studied in the Universities of Vienna, Münster and Erlangen (Germany), and Carlos III of Madrid. CNR scholarship in the Pontificia Universidade Católica de São Paulo in Brasil, in 2003 he was Professor Estrangeiro Visitante for the UNISINOS-Rio Grande do Sul, within the program FAPERGS on designation of Prof. Dr. José Luis Bolzan De Moraes. He was also Visiting Researcher in the Cardozo School of Law (NY) and Visiting Professor in the Universidad Autónoma de Tlaxcala in México, the Universidade Católica de Pernambuco, the Pontificia Universidade Católica do Paraná (Curitiba), and in the Pontificia Universidad Católica del Perú. Now he has won the title of adjunct professor of Comparative Regionalism in the Pontificia Universidad Católica del Perú. In 2003, he was awarded of the Diploma of Alta Distinção da Cultura Juridica Comenda Jurista “Tobias Barreto” from the Instituto Brasileiro de Estudos do Direito of Recife, and he is “membro honorario” of the Instituto de Direito Constitucional e Cidadania y “Professor Honorario” en Perú. Past Coordinator of the international Doctorate in Legal, Political and Social Compared Systems in the University of Lecce, he was European referent of Circulo Constitucional Euro Americano and First President of the Sezione Italiana del Instituto Iberoamericano de Derecho Constitucional. He was Dean of the Facoltà di Scienze della Formazione e Scienze Politiche e Sociali (University of Salento).

Carlo Ciardo has a scholarship in Diritto Costituzionale at the University of Salento. He has achieved his Ph.D. in Diritto dell'Economia e del Mercato at ISUFI – University of Salento. Among his publications on health is the essay Concorrenza amministrata e federalismo sanitario. Confronto fra NHS e SSN, in «Rivista di Diritto Pubblico Comparato Europeo», 1, 2008.

Elisabetta Giordano has attended the University of Salento, deepening the studies of International Relations both in her BA and MA. She has published Nixon, Kissinger e la diplomazia triangolare, in «Clio», 2, 2011.

Raffaele Martella has achieved in 2013 his MA in Political Science at the University of Salento. The present essay is partly drawn from his thesis in United States History.

Francesco Martini has achieved his Ph.D. in Studi storici, geografici e delle relazioni internazionali at the University of Salento in 2013. After his MA at the University of Padua, he was visiting research associate at the Center for Transatlantic Relations of the SAIS Johns Hopkins University, Washington, D.C.

Immacolata Petio has achieved in 2010 her BA in Political Science and International Relations at the University of Salento with a thesis in History of International Relations and then in 2013 her MA in Political Science. The present essay is drawn from her thesis in Diplomatic History.

Francesca Salvatore is attending a Ph.D. in International Relations at University of Salento, Lecce. Her research is focused on Us-India relations during Kennedy administration. She is teaching assistant in USA History and International Relations at University of Salento, Lecce. She contributes to Unisalento Webtv with interviews and reportages.

Paolo Soave, Ph.D. in African History, is docente a contratto in History of International Relations at the University of Parma. His main publications: La scoperta geopolitica dell'Ecuador. Mire espansionistiche italiane ed egemonia del dollaro 1919-1945, Milano, Franco Angeli, 2008; La "rivoluzione americana" nel Mediterraneo. Prove di politica di potenza e declino delle reggenze barbaresche (1795-1816), Milano, Giuffrè, 2004; Fezzan: il deserto conteso (1842-1921), Milano, Giuffrè, 2001.

Mario Sznajder is Professor at the Department of Political Science of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem. Leon Blum Chair on Political Science. Chair of RC 13 – Research Committee on Democratization at IPSA (International Political Science Association). Author of various books and many scientific articles on the ideology and practice of fascism, human rights and politics, democratization in Latin America and anti-Semitism and politics. Member of the editorial boards of various scientific publications in the above areas of specialization. Latest publications: (with L. Roniger), The Politics of Exile in Latin America, New York, Cambridge, Cambridge University Press, 2009; Del Estado-refugio al Estado-conflicto: El Holocausto y la formación del imaginario colectivo israelí, in «Revista Mexicana de Ciencias Políticas y Sociales», 200, 2008; Israele dopo le elezioni. Un paese in stallo, in «Il Mulino» 2, 2009; Populismo y Globalización in América Latina, in Judit Bokser Liwerant y Gilda Waldman, eds., Pensar la gobalización, la democracia y la diversidad, México, UNAM, 2009; Fascismo e Intolerancia, in Maria Luiza Tucci Carneiro, ed., Tempos de Fascismo: Ideologia, Intolerancia, Imaginario, Sao Paulo, USP, 2010; (with Luis Roniger, C. Forment, eds.), Shifting Frontiers of Citizenship: The Latin American Experience, Leyden, Boston, Brill, 2013; ed., Nueva geopolítica en Medio Oriente (numero monográfico sobre Israel y Medio Oriente), in «Araucaria», 30, 2013.

Maria Lucia Tarantino is researcher in Political Philosophy at the University of Salento. At present, she teaches Analysis of the Political Language at the same University. Among her publications: Natura umana, diritto naturale progressivo e ordine sociale: Georges Renard, Milano, Giuffré, 2004; trad. it. e intr. di G. RENARD, La filosofia dell'istituzione, Roma, Gangemi, 2004; Istituzionalismo e neoistituzionalismo. Questioni e figure, Milano, Giuffré, 2010.